

JENZERA WORKING GROUP

We are an interdisciplinary and inter-ethnic group of men and women committed to the organizational efforts of indigenous peoples, Afro-Colombians and peasants trying to overcome poverty and social exclusion.

We accompany community processes so that people can freely decide on their social, political and economic lives through the defense of their territories, the empowerment of their own governments and the development of a self-managed economy that meets their needs and produces healthy and sufficient food.

We hope that our support helps communities find living alternatives that are environmentally friendly and harmonious with other cultures.

We want to open spaces for peaceful coexistence through the respect of human rights, gender equality and multiculturalism.
